The University

In 1959, California Lutheran College was founded jointly by the American Lutheran Church and the Lutheran Church in America. The 225-acre main campus in Thousand Oaks sits on former ranch land donated by Richard Pedersen, a son of Norwegian immigrants. In 1986, CLC became California Lutheran University. One of 26 colleges and universities of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, the liberal arts university is home to schools of education, management, psychology and theology, with the addition in 2014 of Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary.

The COVID-19 pandemic started Spring 2020 and required significant academic changes. Among those changes, all classes were converted to virtual learning mid-term and academic policies were temporarily modified, including those for P/LP/NC and academic standing. Unusual enrollment patterns and grading during the semesters impacted by the pandemic may reflect the disruption of the time, not necessarily the student's work. Grading changes associated with the COVID-19 pandemic ended in August 2021. For documentation regarding the changes, please contact the Academic Services office.

Accreditation

California Lutheran University is accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.
